THE CHARTER GIVEN TO ALEXANDRIA LODGE BY THE GRAND LODGE OF VIRGINIA, DATED APRIL 28, 1788. Edm. Randolph: G.G.

TO ALL AND EVERY to whose knowledge these presents shall come. Greetings:

WHEREAS, It has been duly represented to us, that in the County of Fairfax, and Borough of Alexandria, in the Commonwealth of Virginia, there reside a number of Brethren of the Society of Freemasons, who have assembled as a Lodge agreeably to the Regulations of Masonry by the Title of the Alexandria Lodge, and it appearing to be for the good and increase of the Fraternity that the said Brethren should be encouraged to proceed and work, as heretofore they have done in a Regular Lodge.

KNOW YET, That we, EDMUND RANDOLPH, ESQ. Governor of the Commonwealth aforesaid, and Grand Master of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Freemasons, within the same, by and with the consent of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, do hereby Constitute and Appoint our Illustrious and Well-beloved Brother, GEORGE WASHINGTON, ESQ, late General and Commander-in-Chief of the forces of the United States of America, and our worthy brethren, Robert McCrea, William Hunter, Jr., and John Allison, Esq., together with all such other brethren as may be admitted to associate with them, to be a just, true and regular Lodge of Freemasons, by the name, title and designation of the Alexandria Lodge, No.22.

And further do hereby appoint and ordain, all regular Lodges to hold and acknowledge, and respect them, as such; hereby granting and committing to them, and their successors full power and authority to assemble and convene as a regular Lodge, to enter and receive Apprentices, pass Fellow-Crafts, and raise Master Masons, according to the known and established customs of ancient Craft Masonry, and No otherwise, and also to elect and choose Masters, Wardens, and other officers, annually, at such time or times as to them shall seem meet and convenient; and to exact from their members such compensation as they shall judge necessary for the support of their Lodge, the relief of their brethren in distress, and contribution towards the Grand Charity, and agreeably to the Book of constitutions and the laws of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and recommending to the brethren aforesaid, to receive and obey their Superiors in all things lawful and honest as becomes the honor and harmony of Masons, and to record in their books this present Charter with their own regulations and by-laws, and their whole acts and proceedings, from time to time, as they occur, and by no means desert their said Lodge hereby constituted, or form themselves into separate meetings, without the consent and approbation of their Master and Wardens for the time being. All which, by acceptance hereof, they are holden and engaged to observe; and the brethren aforesaid are to acknowledge and recognize the Grand Master and the Grand Lodge as their Superiors, and shall pay due regard and obedience to all such instructions as they have received or hereafter shall receive from thence. And, lastly, they are requested to correspond with the Grand Lodge, and to attend the meetings thereof, by their Master and Wardens, or their proxies being Master Masons and members of their said Lodge.

GIVEN under the Seal of the Grand Lodge at Richmond, in the State of Virginia, the 28th day of April, A.L. 5788, A.D. 1788.

COLUMBIAN MIRROR AND ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE OF SEPTEMBER 23, 1793

Georgetown, September 21, 1793

On Wednesday, one of the Grandest Masonic processions took place for the purpose of laying the corner-stone of the Capitol of the United States, which perhaps, was ever exhibited on the like important occasion. About ten o'clock, Lodge No.9 was visited by that congregation so graceful to the Craft, Lodge No.22 of Virginia, with all their officers and regalia; and directly afterwards appeared on the southern banks of the grand river Potomac, one of the finest companies of Volunteer Artillery that has been lately seen, parading to receive the President of the united States, who shortly came in sight with his suite, to whom the artillery paid their Military Honors, and his Excellency and suite crossed the rive and was received in Maryland by the officers and brethren of No.22 Virginia and No.9, Maryland, whom the President headed, proceeded by a band of music; the rear brought up by the Alexandria Volunteer Artillery, with Grand Solemnity of March, proceeded to the President's Square, in the city of Washington, where they were met and saluted by No.15, of the City of Washington, in all their elegant badges and clothing, headed by Brother Joseph Clarke, Rt. Wor. G.M. p.t. and conducted to a large lodge prepared for the purpose of their reception. After a short space of time, by the vigilance of Brother Clotworthy Stephenson, Grand Marshal, p.t., the brotherhood and other bodies were disposed in a second order of procession, which took place amidst a brilliant crowd of spectators of both sexes, according to the following arrangement, viz.:

The Surveying Department of the City of Washington
Mayor and Corporation of Georgetown, Virginia Artillery.
Commissioners of the City of Washington.
Stone-Cutters - Mechanics.
Masons of the first Degree.
Bible, etc. on Grand Cushions.
Deacons, with staffs of Office.
Masons of the Second Degree.
Stewards, with wands.
Masons of the Third Degree.
Wardens, with truncheons.
Secretaries, with tools of office..
Past Masters, with their Regalia.
Treasurers, with their Jewels.
Band of Music.
Lodge No.22, Virginia, disposed in their own order.
Corn, Wine, and Oil.
Grand Master, pro tem. Brother George Washington. and Worshipful Master of No.22, of Virginia. Grand Sword Bearer.

The procession marched two abreast, in the greatest solemn dignity, with music playing, drums beating, colors flying, and spectators rejoicing from the President's Square to the Capitol, in the City of Washington, where the Grand Marshal ordered a halt, and directed each file in the procession to incline two steps, one to the right and one to the left, and face each other, which formed a hollow oblong square, through which the Grand Sword Bearer led the van; followed by the Grand Master pro tem, on the left, the President of the united States in the center, and the worshipful Master on No.22, Virginia, on the right; all the other orders that composed the procession advanced in the reverse of their order of march from the President's Square to the southeast corner of the Capitol, and the Artillery filed out to a destined ground to display maneuvers and discharge their cannon. The President of the United States, the Grand Master pro tem, and the Worshipful Master of No.22, taking their stand to the east of the large stone, and all the Craft forming a circle westward, stood a short time in solemn order.

The Artillery discharged a volley. The Grand Marshal delivered the commissioner a large silver plate, with an inscription thereon, which the Commissioners ordered to be read, and was, as follows:

“This southeast Corner-Stone of the Capitol of the United States of America in the City of Washington, was laid on the 18th day of September, 1793, in the thirteenth year of American Independence, in the first year of the second term of the Presidency of George Washington, whose virtues in the civil administration of his country have been as conspicuous and beneficial as his military valor and prudence have been useful in establishing her liberties, and in the year of Masonry 5793, by the President of the United States, in concert with the Grand Lodge of Maryland, several Lodges under its Jurisdiction, and lodge No.22 from Alexandria, Virginia. Thomas Johnson, David Steuart and Daniel Carroll, Commissioners, Joseph Clark, R.W.G.M. pro tem., James Hobam and Stephen Hallate, Architects.”

Collin Williamson, Master Mason.

The Artillery discharged a volley. The Plate was then delivered to the President, who, attended by the Grand Master pro tem., and three Most worshipful Masters, descended to the cavazion trench and deposited the plate, and laid it on the corner-stone of the Capitol of the United States if America, on which were deposited corn, wine, and oil, when the whole congregation joined in reverential prayer, which was succeeded by Masonic chanting honors, and a volley from the Artillery.

The President of the United States, and his attendant brethren, ascended from the carazion to the East of the corner-stone, and there the Grand Master pro tem., elevated on a triple rostrum, delivered an oration fitting the occasion, which was received with brotherly love and commendation. At intervals during the delivery of the oration several volleys were discharged by the Artillery. The ceremony ended in prayer, Masonic chanting honors, and a 15-volley from the Artillery.

The whole company retired to an extensive booth, where an ox of five- hundred pounds weight was barbecued, of which the company generally partook with every abundance of other recreation. The festival concluded with fifteen successive volleys from the Artillery, whose military discipline and maneuvers merit every commendation. Before dark the whole company departed with joyful hopes of the production of their labor. _____

SOME QUOTATIONS FROM WASHINGTON'S MASONIC LETTERS.

December 28, 1783, to Alexandria Lodge No. 39:

I shall always feel pleasure when it may be in my power to render service to Lodge No.39, and in every act of Brotherly kindness to the Members of it.

June 19, 1784, to the same:

With pleasure I received the invitation of the Master and Members of Lodge No.39, to dine with them on the approaching anniversary of St. John the Baptist.

If nothing unforeseen at present interferes, I shall have the honor of doing it.

August 22, 1700, to King David's Lodge, Newport, Rhode Island:

Being persuaded that a just application of the principles, on which the Masonic Fraternity is founded, must be promotive of private virtue and public prosperity, I shall always be happy to advance the interests of the Society, and to be considered by them as a deserving brother.

1791, to St. John's Lodge, Newbern, N.C.

My best ambition having ever aimed at the unbiased approbation of my fellow citizens, it is peculiarly pleasing to find my conduct so affectionately approved by a Fraternity whose association is founded on justice and benevolence.

1791. To Prince George's Lodge No.16, Georgetown, South Carolina.

I am much obliged by your good wishes and reciprocating them with sincerity, assuring the Fraternity of my esteem, I request them to believe that I shall always be ambitious of being considered a deserving Brother.

Response to an address of Charleston, South Carolina, Masons.

The fabric of our freedom is placed on the enduring basis of public virtue, and will, I fondly hope, long continue to protect the prosperity of the architect who raised it. I shall be happy on every occasion, to evince my regard for the Fraternity.

1792. To the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

At the same time, I request that you will be assured of my best wishes and earnest prayers for your happiness while you remain in this terrestrial Mansion, and that we may thereafter meet as brethren in the Eternal Temple of the Supreme Architect.

Response to the dedication in the constitution Book of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts:

It is most fervently to be wished, that the conduct of every member of the Fraternity, as well as the publications that discover the principles which actuate them, may tend to convince mankind that the great object of Masonry is to promote the happiness of the human race.
